

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

About Kalyani

It is a planned town and an important centre of education, with two universities- Kalyani University and Bidhan Chandra University of Agriculture; and many colleges. The prestigious Indian Institute of Science Education and Research (IISER) and National Institute of Biomedical Genomics (NIBMG) already started its academic activities in Kalyani. College of Medicine & J.N.M.Hospital is the only constituent Medical College of West Bengal University of Health Sciences. AIIMS, Kalyani will start its journey from 2019. Three engineering colleges already exist here. S.K. Acharya Institute of Law has begun functioning in Kalyani.

About Venue

Symposia on Molecular Diagnostics & Therapeutics will be organized by the Department of Biochemistry, "College of Medicine & J.N.M.Hospital, West Bengal University of Health Sciences" at Kalyani.

Get in

There are four railway stations here - Kalyani, Kalyani Silpanchal, Kalyani Ghoshpara and Kalyani Simanta. The institution is situated at a distance of 100 meters from "Kalyani Silpanchal", Railway station (for "Sealdah-Kalyani Seeimanta" bound trains), 1 km from "Kalyani Main" Railway Station (for Sealdah-Santipur/ Krishnanagar/ Gede/ Ranaghat bound trains) and 1 Km from Kalyani Bus Stand. Bandel Junction Railway Station in Howrah Main line is approximately at a distance of 14 km. The nearby airport named "Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose International Airport" at Kolkata is 40 km away from the college.

Nearby Places to Visit

Nabadwip, the historic town, is the birthplace and abode of the founder of Vaishnav religion and great social reformer - Shri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu and Iskcon, Mayapur are in this Nadia District. Bandel Basilica Church, one of the oldest Christian Church of West Bengal; Hooghly Imambara, an architectural splendour of the 19th century and Hanseswari temple, a Hindu Temple of goddess Kali are worth to visit.

Weather

June is summer time, weather remains hot (30-35C). Normal light clothes are sufficient.

Symposia on Molecular Diagnostics and Therapeutics

June 21-22, 2019

Organized by
Department of Biochemistry,
College of Medicine & JNM Hospital, WBUHS, Kalyani, West Bengal
With
Association of Clinical Biochemists of India

Dear Colleague,

The recent advances in technologies has added in understanding of disease, etio-pathogenesis, precise diagnosis of the disease and monitoring. Molecular diagnostics, a collection of techniques is used to diagnose and monitor disease, detect risk, and decide which therapy will work best for individual patients. Hence today it is offering more powerful tools for earlier and more accurate detection of disease and giving laboratories a key role in the emerging field of molecular diagnostics and personalized medicine. In recent years, molecular testing has become more routine in a range of medical specializations including infectious disease, oncology, genetic disease screening; human leukocyte antigen typing, coagulation, pharmacogenomics and the list goes on. Even smaller labs are being interested to acquiring molecular capabilities as it is simpler, user friendly, cost-effective and labor saving systems. Further simplification will foster wider implementation by community based hospital laboratories and eliminate significant volume of costly send-out tests.

In this context College of Medicine & JNM Hospital, WBUHS is planning an academic feast on June 21- 22, 2019 on Molecular Diagnostics & Therapeutics. The major objectives of this symposia aim to provide advanced deliberations by eminent clinicians and scientists to foster improved understanding Molecular Diagnostics & Therapeutics for the benefit of the health professionals.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Deadline for submission of abstracts: April 15, 2019

Participants can submit an electronic copy of Abstract by e-mail to the Secretariat together with the registration form and registration fees. Abstracts will be reviewed by the scientific committee and assigned to appropriate sessions. Only a very limited number of abstracts will be scheduled for oral presentation.

Guidelines for Submission:

1. Error free Abstracts not exceeding 250 words typed in “Times New Roman” and font size “12” should be as brief and informative as possible with chronological headings:
Title, Authors and addresses (Italics the presenting author), Email ID to whom acceptance is to be sent, Objectives, Methodology, Results and Conclusions of study.
2. Standard abbreviations only to be used.
3. Inclusion in the scientific program and book of abstracts will be considered only on payment of registration fee.
4. Letter of acceptance will be sent by May 15, 2019 by email.

LIST OF TOPICS TO BE COVERED

The possible tracks for the symposia (but not to be limited to) are as following:

- ❖ Molecular Diagnostics & Therapy in
- Inflammation and immunity
- Cancer
- Cardiovascular disease
- Diabetes
- Liver disease
- Genetic disease screening
- Tissue repair and remodelling
- Apoptosis and Redox signaling
- ❖ Radiation therapy
- ❖ Nutraceuticals
- ❖ MicroRNAs
- ❖ Regulatory issues
- ❖ Sources of error
- ❖ Imaging in Biological research
- ❖ Cellular Detoxification Mechanisms
- ❖ Nano-toxicology & Nano-therapeutics
- ❖ Gene therapy & Genome sequencing
- ❖ Cell Cycle & Differentiation

REGISTRATION

Registration fees	Upto April 30, 2019	After April 30, 2019
Students* (B.Sc/M.Sc/MBBS)	Rs. 500/-	Rs. 800/-
Students* (DNB/ MD/ Ph.D)	Rs. 800/-	Rs. 1000/-
Faculty	Rs. 1200/-	Rs. 1500/-

* Students must enclose a bonafide student certificate issued by head of the department and counter-signed by Head of the institution

Registration Fees for participation includes –

- Participation in scientific sessions
- Registration kit (NOT for Accompanying persons)
- Breakfast, working lunch, tea and dinner during Symposia period

Accommodation (Limited number-First cum first serve and sharing basis)
at Lake Hall (Farmers' Training Centre), Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya
